HELEN GIPSON DIES OF PNEUMONIA; 23 VARSITY FOLK ILL

Head of Home Economics Department Reported Among Sufferers From Flu.

CONTINUE SICK CALL

W. E. Schreiber Reports Situation on Campus as Improving Somewhat.

Although Helen Gipson, a student at the University, died of pneumonia following an attack of Spanish influenza, the situation at the University is pronounced as improved by W. E. Schreiber, chairman of the health committee. Twenty-two women and one man of the University are suffering from influenza. Miss Emeline S. Whitcomb, head of the home economics department, is suffering an attack of influenza. Harriet Stein, a sophomore, is at St. Patrick's hospital suffering from pneumonia following influenza.

Miss Helen Gipson died Thursday morning at 3:45 o'clock at St. Patrick's hospital of pneumonia following influenza. Her mother, Mrs. George Wilson, arrived Wednesday noon and was with her daughter at the time of her death. Miss Gipson is survived by her mother, her father and one sister. Mr. Wilson arrived last night and will make arrangements for leaving here with the body Saturday morning for Mandan, North Dakota, where the funeral will be held.

Miss Gipson entered the University in the fall quarter.

Miss Whitcomb is ill at Knowles cottage.

Mildred Stache of the Kappa Kappa Gamma and Jewell Godfrey of the Delta Gamma sororities are ill with influenza at St. Patrick's hospital. There are twelve cases in Craig hall, but they are all light. Grace Armstrong, Florence Benson, Grace Eldering, Lydia Gudmunson, Marian Hebert, Lottie Helvik, Edna Helmerick, Hazel Kain, Jean

Mooney Manager; Allan Yell King; E. Jacobson Editor

Because only one candidate for the following offices was nominated at an election of the executive meeting of the A. S. U. M., Thursday afternoon, Esther Jacobson was appointed editor of the Kaimin. Roy Allan, cheer leader, and Guy Mooney, manager of the A. S. U. M. No voting was necessary because of the nomination of only one candidate to each office. Mooney, the new member of the sophomore class and member of the Sigma Nu fraternity. Allan is a junior and is a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity. Miss Jacobson is at the university taking post graduate work.

BENTZ, STAR TACKLE, SAYS WALTER CAMP

Expert Selects Former Montana Grid Captain on All-Star Service Team.

At tackle, Bentz of the Chicago naval reserves at Municipal Pier, is admittedly the strongest tackle in the Middle West, barring none. This is the tribute Walter Camp, writing in Collier's, pays to big Chris Bentz, a former Montana student and football star. Bentz has been selected to play tackle on the All-Star team.

Bentz is a graduate of the Montana law school, in 1918, and was a star player on the Montana eleven during his entire college course. He played on the team that tied the score with Syracuse and not once since he entered Montana University has the State College eleven gone home to Bozeman victorious.

The eastern papers have called Bentz "petite." He is six and a half feet tall and weighs more than 250 pounds.

He is a member of Iota Nu fraternity and was prominent in all university activities. He played on the football team for four years, being captain of the team during 1917-18. He was also a strong player on the basketball five and played guard on the Iota Nu team that won the inter-fraternity championship last year.

Bentz enlisted in the navy after his graduation last spring and since that time has been stationed at Municipal Pier training station.

RED CROSS OF HUNS HONORED BY YANKEES

Baird Says Americans Stop Firing While Germans Care for Wounded.

HAS SPECTRAL MEETING

In Inky Darkness at Argonne He Flashes on Light and Reveals Frank Dreis.

The courtesy of war was seen in one of the last big drives by Alva Baird, a former student in the University. He said that during the heaviest of fighting, four German Red Cross soldiers, carrying a Red Cross banner, came on the field to carry off some wounded men. Not a single shot was fired from the American guns until the wounded men were cared for; then the battle was resumed with a vengeance.

While on the way to the front, in the battle of the Argonne forest, Baird met a Montana University man for the first time since landing in France. Baird was sent to meet another artillery lieutenant and a runner, who was to take them to the front. The night was inky black and he could see little except occasional flashes of rockets as they soared and fell. A man stepped out of the shadows. Baird flashed a light on this figure. It was Frank Dreis, formerly a University student and athlete. The two were together from that time, fighting side by side, until the armistice was signed.

DATA ON U WAR HEROES TO MAKE UP BULLETIN

Committee on War Service Collects Photographs and Information for Publication.

Pictures of the university men who died in France, in the camps in America, or in the S. A. T. C., are being collected by the committee on war service. Data concerning civilian and military life of these men is to be obtained. A bulletin will be printed containing this information and photographs. Thus far the pictures of Harry Higman, of Hamilton; Dan Guy Anderson, of Missoula; Samuel Hiebert, of Chinook; Virgil Bostwick, of Dillon, and Sidney Dunbar, have been received by the committee.

LEVINE BACK NEXT WEEK FROM WASHINGTON, D. C.

Called to Capital as Expert in Research for Government Peace Envoys.

Dr. Louis Levine, professor of economics, who left for Washington, D. C., December 22, where he has been doing research work in connection with the peace conference for the government, is expected to return next week to resume charge of his classes.

During his absence George A. Denfeld, instructor in business administration, is conducting his class in economic resources, and Ralph D. Casey, assistant professor in journalism, conducts the class in international relations. William Jameson, economics major, has charge of the class in money and banking.

SIXTEEN MONTANANS GIVE LIVES IN WAR. SID LORANGER IS DEAD

Former Varsity Ball Player Succumbs to Injury Received in Cuba.

MATHENY FLU VICTIM

The roll of honor for the State University of Montana reached a total of sixteen dead when the death of Raymond ("Bid") Loranger and C. Wayne Matheny reached the campus. Loranger who enlisted in the marines shortly after the war began died last Saturday in a sanitarium in Colorado. His death is the result of an injury received when an ambulance slid down an embankment crushing his lungs.

Loranger was sent to Cuba after his enlistment where he underwent an operation for appendicitis. It was while he was being removed from one hospital to another that he was injured. He was sent from Cuba to Brooklyn, New York. Consumption developed from his injury and he was taken from there to a sanitarium in Colorado where he died Saturday morning.

C. Wayne Matheny, ex-'17, Redfield, South Dakota, who enlisted in the spring of 1917, died of Spanish influenza November in New York. Matheny attended the University in 1914-15, and was assistant in men's gymnasium in the summer of 1915. At the time of his enlistment he was employed by the Missoula Mercantile Co.

Bruce Hopper, ex-'17, Billings, who enlisted in the aviation corps, was wounded. Details have not reached the campus. He attended the University for two years and then went to Harvard. He was a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

The former University men who died in the service are:

I. G. Anderson, died of influenza in the S. A. T. C.

Virgil Bostwick, died of influenza in the S. A. T. C.

Lester Brennan, killed in aeroplane accident in England.

Roy S. Butzerin, gassed in France.

Marcus B. Cook, died when the troopship Tuscania was sunk.

Paul Dornblaser, killed in France.

Sidney W. Dunbar, died of influenza in the S. A. T. C.

James Harold Haubensack, died in France.

Samuel Hiebert, died of scarlet fever in the S. A. T. C.

Harry Higman, died of influenza in the S. A. T. C.

Raymond Loranger, died in Colorado from consumption contracted from injury.

C. Wayne Matheny, died of influenza in New York.

Claude Simpkins, killed in action.

Henry Torrey, killed in France.

D. Mason Whitmore, died of influenza at Camp Lewis.

Ward Woodward, died in France.

The wounded are:

Wingfield Brown.

Tom Busha (slightly).

Edwin Cummins.

Ellsworth C. Mosby.

Clarence ("Hop") Prescott (gassed).

Frosh Trimmed in Midnight Fight; Sophs Come Armed With Scissors

Kain, First-Year President Scalped; Clippers Applied to Mooney

Bolsheviki outbreaks on the campus have been put down with great loss to the revolutionists. The cause of democracy has been saved and order has again been restored. All the ring-leaders were captured and punished. No further demonstrations are expected. All of which means that the frosh received their long deterred chastisement at the hands of the sophomores Wednesday evening.

The excitement began when the frosh raided the Delta Rho house and captured ex-Sergeant Guy Mooney. When the first year men left they took Mooney's hair with them. From then on the vicinity of the campus was no place for a sophomore. Frosh stopped each street car and called at all the Greek letter houses, making a great disturbance and accomplishing nothing.

At 11 o'clock the frosh got the scent and pursued Byron O'Neil eight blocks, finally discovering that it was a brother and rejoicing at the addition to the crowd. With courage at its height the frosh marched safely across the Higgins avenue bridge and back, breaking up for the night.

Numerous members of the class of '22 awoke with a start near midnight to dress hurriedly and join the gang. The gang was the frosh, marching to the tune of Mr. Zip, Zip, Zip, while the sophs gave advice and free haircuts. Among those present were Poindexter, Macrae, McKoin, Free and others of note to the number of 20. President Kain led the procession, hatless, hairless and with a halter around his august neck. It was a pleasant evening.

After approved treatment the underlings were dismissed at 2 a. m. The barracks was the next sophomore objective. The citadel was captured with no difficulty and a dozen second-year men sheared the score of frosh present. Rough treatment was unnecessary in this instance, also.

The frosh are disgusted at the unexpected nature of the affair. "They didn't come out to run a footrace," but they did before the night was over. The only results of the fray are numerous closely clipped heads and a wholesome respect for authority on the part of the frosh. They are now meek as the proverbial lambkin.

SIMES TO GIVE LECTURES.

Lewis Simes, a member of the law firm of Patterson, Heyfron and Simes, is to deliver lectures in the law school as soon as he returns from his services with the army. During his absence Fred R. Angevine is handling the work.

Special Y. W. Program.

A special program will be given at the Y. W. C. A. meeting Tuesday afternoon at 4:15 in the Auditorium. Miss Gardner will give a vocal selection and Mrs. Jameson, dean of women, will give a short talk. All the University women are invited. Barbara Fraser will preside at the meeting.

6 Former Lieutenants on Campus; One Ex-Officer Is Faculty Man

Phipps, Mussey, Van Horn, Scherck and Hansen Take Up Studies

There are five men who held second lieutenantcies in the army registered in the University this quarter. One former second lieutenant is a member of the faculty.

Cecil G. Phipps is registered in the school of forestry. Before coming here he was with the coast artillery. His home is at Florence, Montana.

William Mussey, whose home is in Denver, Colorado, has returned and registered as a regular student. Last quarter he was one of the instructors in the S. A. T. C. unit here.

T. Boyd Van Horn of Miles City, is enrolled in the school of forestry. He was an instructor in military tactics in the S. A. T. C., at Oregon Agricultural college, Corvallis, during the last three months.

George ("Gus") Scherck, who has been stationed at Payne Field, West Point, Miss., is in Missoula and will enroll Monday. He has been in the aviation branch of the service since last April.

Hans Hansen, a former student at the University, who has been stationed at Camp Zachary Taylor, Louisville, Kentucky, as an instructor in artillery, has returned to the University. He is a member of the sophomore class.

Ralph Millam had planned to return this quarter, but has decided, instead, to go to Kansas City, Missouri, where a position has been offered him.

Charles P. Valentine, second lieutenant, and personnel of the S. A. T. C., has returned to the faculty. He is instructor in the school of pharmacy.

SICK CALL.

Sick call is all right and will undoubtedly prevent many illnesses from influenza. It is necessary and right that students should respond to Professor Schreiber's injunctions. But sick call does not go far enough in our opinion. A permanent health organization should be established on the campus so that in winter, spring or summer, and in or out of flu season, students might have the quick benefit of medical counsel that is necessary.

MORAL OF THE "PROCS."

While, as a rule, we regard some of the former traditions and customs of college life as passe, it strikes us as showing the proper spirit to post "procs" this year. It indicates at least that the sophomores are up and alive. Would that we could say as much for the juniors and seniors. The "procs" that were posted last night contained the time-worn admonitions, and we would have preferred some newer warnings. But they indicate that class spirit has returned anyway.

The freshmen have a proper place in the University scheme of things, and that place is not running the institution. When we see a youngster in his first year in college assuming the right of leadership the moment he steps on the campus we know that there is something wrong. Either the upperclassmen are forfeiting their rights of student leadership and the freshman is honestly attempting to fill a gap or the freshman is truly fresh and should be pointed out the error of his ways.

A CASE FOR SENIORS.

Students and faculty have been making too many long, long trails across the campus until now the University grounds look a bit like a checkerboard. Fortunately, the superintendent of buildings and grounds has posted little blue signs that rise up like conscience and warn the trespasser to follow the walks and not to pioneer across the campus. It should not have been necessary to stick up these requests, but as the seniors and the student council have failed to give an expression of undergraduate leadership in this matter, the University was compelled to take action. Why do not the upperclassmen exercise their right and express senior and junior sentiment once in a while?

Personals

B. H. B. announces the pledging of Florence Dixon of Missoula.
Alpha Delta Alpha fraternity announces the pledging of Ronald Kain of Helena. Kain recently was elected president of the freshman class.
Lieutenant Lambert deMers, '21, has been discharged from the S. A. T. C. at Bozeman, where he has been stationed. He will not resume his studies in the University until the spring quarter.

UTAH VS. MONTANA DEBATE WILL OPEN SEASON AT U

Tryout for Varsity Team February 1; Contest at Moscow May Be Arranged.

Debate tryout for the varsity team will be held February 1, according to Debate Manager William Jameson. Utah will come to Missoula to debate the question of government control of the railways. Utah has suggested the question, and Montana may choose the negative or affirmative.

Hazel Baird, who was on a former Montana team, will try out again for debate honors. Other students who wish to try for the team should see Jameson or Professor George R. Coffman at once. A debate may be arranged with Idaho at Moscow if enough interest is shown, Jameson says.

M'HAFFIE GETS COMMISSION.

Stuart McHaffie, former A. S. U. M. president, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the motor transport corps of the American army in France. His name appeared in a list of Montana men who enrolled recently at the American University Union in Paris, according to information which came to President Sisson. The other men enrolled at the union were, Howard Johnson, '16, air service; Thomas Matthews, '17, air service; Eck Mosby, '19, infantry; Ray Jones, '15, ordnance department.

HEADS HISTORY DEPARTMENT.

Hazel Herman, a former University student, is head of the history department at the high school in Walla Walla, Wash. Miss Herman, who was a major in the history department, was graduated in 1916.

BERKELEY OPENS THIS WEEK.

Berkeley, Cal., January 10.—President Benj. Ide Wheeler of the University of California, recently issued the following announcement, postponing the opening of the University for the spring term until Monday, January 20: "The University will remain closed until Monday, January 20. Measures of protection against influenza which Berkeley and San Francisco are about to adopt, make it reasonably certain that it will be safe to open on that date."

U QUINT WILL PLAY BOBCATS NEXT MONTH

Two Championship Games to Be Staged at Bozeman and Two in Missoula.

Varsity basket ball games will be scheduled with the State College for the latter part of February or the first of March, according to W. E. Schreiber. Two games will be staged at Bozeman and two at Missoula for the state championship. It is possible that other games may be arranged.

Men are turning out for practice each evening and some promising timber is in sight. Among those players showing the most ability are Howard McKain, Ahern, Joy, Ruppel, Mussey, Spogen and McKoin.

Interclass games are scheduled for the first of February. Each team will meet every other team at least once. The present schedule follows:

February 5 — Freshmen-Seniors; Sophs-Juniors.
February 6 — Freshmen-Juniors; Sophs-Seniors.
February 7 — Freshmen-Sophs; Juniors-Seniors.

The inter-departmental schedule also plans on a round robin series with four teams competing:

February 12—Arts and Science vs. Law; Journalism vs. Forestry.
February 13—Arts and Science vs. Journalism; Law vs. Forestry.
February 17—Arts and Science vs. Forestry; Law vs. Journalism.

WE APOLOGIZE

Four names were spelled incorrectly in the Kaimin of January 14. They were the names of William Mussey, Helen Gipson, Mildred Stache and Phillips X. Daniels.

The Kaimin said that Merle Gallagher was working in the beet sugar factory in Billings. The statement was incorrect. Gallagher is teaching in high school in his home town in Minnesota.

In a first page story on fraternities and sororities the Kaimin failed to distinguish in a list of names between the Alpha Phis and Delta Gammas.

Problems of Peace

The ending of the war does not lessen the responsibility of Montana citizenship. Rather, the problems of peace are more difficult of solution than those of war. The State University of Montana has for its main purpose the development of the right idea of citizenship and of the responsibilities of Montana citizenship. This state has made a war record which is remarkable. To continue that record in time of peace, to add to the usefulness of this commonwealth, is the present-day duty of every Montanan. To aid in this achievement is the aim of the State University. Practical courses, vocational schools, well-defined ideals offer to the Montana student the best opportunity for education. # U ENROLLMENT RANKS WELL IN NORTHWEST

Stone, Back from Y. M. Conference, Says Montana Registration Exceeds Idaho.

Emerson Stone returned Wednesday from a Y. M. C. A. conference held in Pullman, Wash., last week. While at the meeting there Mr. Stone was appointed camp secretary for the organization at the State University. He succeeds Rev. R. A. Cameron, who resigned recently to resume his duties as pastor of the Presbyterian church in Anaconda. In speaking of the meeting in Pullman, Mr. Stone said yesterday: "Montana is better off than most of the inland schools in the northwest, at least so far as student enrollment is concerned. W. S. C. has a total enrollment of but little more than 600 and the University of Idaho, including the school of mines and the agricultural college, is behind that of the University. In the matter of buildings, alone they have the better of us. The spirit here is far better, it seems to me, and I'm sure the surrounding country of Missoula is too far ahead of that of Moscow or Pullman to be compared.

"In Pullman, Moscow and at Whitman in Walla Walla, the squads have been busy at basket ball for some time now. All three schools are going to have strong teams if I'm any judge. I saw them in action and they certainly have some fine material. They are all desirous of meeting Montana.

"The conference was one of the most inspiring meetings that I have ever attended. D. R. Porter, head of the student department of the Y. M. C. A., in this country, was leader. He is a man of remarkable personality and is a delightful speaker. Mr. Seaman and Mr. McAfee, both of whom are known to most of the men students here, were there. They have all heard, as have the many colleges in this section, of the good S. A. T. C. record of the University of Montana.

"Many of the speakers on the Y. M. C. A. lecture course will probably appear at the University during the coming months. They are all men of national reputation. If Montana is to keep up her end in the Y. M. C. A. work, she will have to do well, for in the schools all along the Pacific coast they have made fine records thus far. One former Montana student who attended the conference replied, when asked to give his opinion as to what Montana would do:

"I don't know just what will be expected of her. That has not been made clear yet. But I do know that if it is a real proposition, and other schools have made good records, then Montana will be among the leaders, for there is nothing she can't do."

Spiller appointed a committee composed of Joe Arneson, chairman; Helen Stewart and Constance Keith to draw up the rules for guidance of freshmen.

Oregon Cold Snap Balmy for Reynolds

Rox Doesn't Mind Eugene Frigid Weather, While Others Chill.

Rox Reynolds, who left the University last week for the western coast, has registered in the University of Oregon, at Eugene. The Oregon Emerald, the University paper, had the following story on its front page last week:

"Oregon has at least one student who felt warm during the recent unusual frigid spell in the Willamette valley. Rox Reynolds arrived in the midst of the cold blast.

"Thursday night he was walking down Thirteenth street with a faculty man who had his overcoat rolled up around his ears.

"'Pretty warm over here, isn't it?' Reynolds inquired.

"'Yes, rather warm in the summer. Last year it went up to ninety-eight, I remember.' This reminiscently through teeth that threatened to chatter.

"'Oh, I didn't mean in the summer. I mean now,' was the reply.

"It might be explained here that Reynolds, who is a journalism student, hails from Missoula, Montana, and that it was 15 degrees below zero when he left there a few days ago.

"At that time Oregon students were complaining of cold feet with the thermometer away up around twenty-five above the zero mark."
